TOWER TIDINGS

LENT 2025

FINDING THE TREASURES OF OUR FAITH

Reverend Daniel Vigilante, Pastor

DEAR PCM FAMILY,

I'm so excited for the season of Lent this year and for the worship theme that will guide us through these 40 days: Finding the Treasures of Our Faith.

When most of us think of Lent, we think about what we'll give up - sweets, French fries, soft drinks, alcohol - whatever is your vice of choice. The hope is, of course, that doing so will draw us closer to Jesus' sacrifice for us and for our salvation. I'm not sure it always works that way - but that's the hope.

At PCM this year, we won't be talking about what we give up, but rather, what we might seek out during this holy season - the treasures of our faith. Each week during worship, we'll focus on one idea - one cherished and beloved gem of our Christian journey - and how we might find it both within and beyond the walls of the church. We'll even be giving out little goodies each Sunday to remind us of these riches.

We begin on Ash Wednesday, March 5, 2025 - when you'll receive your treasure box! - and spend the following six weeks encountering Jesus through the stories of Luke's gospel - focusing on the beauty of this life of faith. I hope that you'll join us!

In the meantime, I invite you to read on in this issue of Tower Tidings for all of the other things PCM has to offer during this season - community meals and study groups; special Wednesday worship opportunities and occasions for serving others through the good work of our Outreach committee. If you missed the chance to make a commitment in our Worship + Two campaign at the start of this year, Lent makes for a perfect time to give it a try.

However you observe Lent - whether you shed a habit, take on a new practice, join some of our ongoing opportunities to live reflectively, or simply stop to look up with wonder each day - I pray that you will experience a deep sense of grace... and hope... and purpose; community, service, and joy... indeed, the treasures of our faith.

In Christ's love,
Daniel

FAITH'S TURNING POINTS

Reverend Audrey Webber, Associate Pastor

FRIENDS,

Throughout our lives, there are moments—both simple and profound—that shape how we view our faith. This year, we are reflecting on the treasures of our faith (such as grace, forgiveness, and community) and the times that have transformed our relationship with God.

I would like you to think of one moment or experience that changed your faith in some way. It could be a time when you felt deeply connected with God, a worship experience that shifted your understanding of God, a conversation or class that left an impact, or a moment with someone that changed your perspective about your faith.

During this season of Lent, our congregation takes us through stories of their faith journeys, and the treasures they found along the way. You can pick up a Lenten Devotional booklet beginning on Ash Wednesday after worship or subscribe to receive the daily devotionals right to your email by visiting pcmorrystown.org/lent.

Blessings,
Audrey

LENTEN BIBLE STUDY: MEET YOUR BIBLE

WEDNESDAYS | MARCH 12 - APRIL 9 | 5:45 PM | THE CHAPEL

Join us for a Lenten Bible study designed for both newcomers and longtime readers of Scripture. This series will provide an overview of the Bible—what it is, who wrote it, and how it reveals God's work in the world. Together, we'll explore key Christian concepts, the relationship between the Old and New Testaments, and how the Bible guides us in faith and life. Whether you're seeking a refresher or encountering these ideas for the first time, this study invites open discussion and shared learning as we reflect on God's story together.

WOMEN'S LENTEN BIBLE STUDY: THE MESSAGE OF JESUS

THURSDAYS | MARCH 16 - APRIL 10 | 11:00 AM | PARISH HOUSE

The Message of Jesus by Adam Hamilton explores the core teachings of Jesus, emphasizing his messages of love, grace, justice, and the Kingdom of God. During this Lenten study, we will reflect on how we can live out Jesus' teachings in our daily lives, fostering a deeper faith and commitment to following His example.

MARCH 5 | GENESIS 28:10-17 | REV. DANIEL VIGILANTE

Some people have a gift for remembering their dreams. I consider them lucky because I've never been one of them. In this story from Genesis, we read about Jacob, who encountered God in a dream in which he saw a stairway extending from earth to heaven. He heard the voice of God telling him that the land on which he was sleeping was holy - and that God was with him in that place.

I've never been lucky enough to remember most of my dreams, but I have been blessed to experience God's presence at many different times and in countless varied ways. In fact, as I reflect upon it now - rarely have I experienced a sense of God's presence in dreams - but it's almost always been through people. When I have moved to new places, church members have welcomed me and made me feel at home. When I have struggled to make sense of this world that often feels so cruel, I have seen God at work in the kindness of others. When my father passed away, a simple text from a friend reminded me that even in my grief, I was not alone.

God's presence is made known in dreams but more often through the love of people. Which makes me wonder - how are you being called to make God known through this season of Lent?

MARCH 6 | EXODUS 33:12-23 | PATTY SCADUTO

When considering what has changed my faith at this point in time, several thoughts come to mind.

I was raised, along with my four siblings, in a Catholic household. My parents were very devoted Catholics and were determined that all five of us children have a Catholic education. There was much sacrifice on their part so that not only we could attend Catholic schools but that we become faithful followers of the church. During those years, I had no reason to doubt the age-old teachings and rituals of the Catholic church.

As I grew older, I became disillusioned with aspects of my faith. It was during my career as a physician that I had the privilege of meeting many wonderful patients and fellow healthcare workers. Two of those extraordinary people are my good friend Pat and my loving husband, Phil. Pat guided me toward a loving God by introducing to me various teachings of well known theologians. Through those readings, I have come to realize that God is love and God is hope.

Phil, having traveled a similar religious journey, encouraged me to join PCM, knowing that the PCM community has the road map I need to continue my faith journey. PCM's inclusive environment, community outreach, and emphasis on peace and justice are the guide posts that I need at this time in my life to live my faith.

And so the journey continues.

REFLECTIONS

Jeanne Mueller, Director, Presbyterian Church Nursery School

Lent is a reflective time of year. It falls during a time of the school year where we see tremendous growth in young children. The school community runs at full gear and teachers can often be heard saying – “They have grown so much since the beginning of the school year.”

We feel each day here is a treasure-filled experience in our classrooms. Children, families, and teachers are reaping the positive results of hard work and development at this time of the year. We reflect on the progress of all our students.

Teachers and parents reflect together when they attend parent/teacher conferences. This time to work with parents and review the evaluations of their children’s progress is something we here at PCNS treasure. Teachers and parents make plans to work together to support our students’ progress toward growth and success. We are building strong relationships with all of our families. Parents, children, and teachers have built a strong faith in each other which helps the remainder of the school year to be a positive experience.

The Presbyterian Church Nursery School and staff wishes the school and church families a peaceful Lenten season.

HERE WE GO!

Amanda Tufts, Director of Community Engagement

TO MY FELLOW JUSTICE-DOERS, KINDNESS-LOVERS, AND HUMBLE-WALKERS,

I can't thank you all enough for the warm and enthusiastic response to my recent transition to Director of Community Engagement! I have been met with smiles, hugs, laughter, ideas, you name it! I am so excited to continue my work here at PCM with our church family.

In this new role, I will continue overseeing the communications you're familiar with (website, social, email, Tower Tidings) while also focusing on strengthening the bonds within our church family and deepening our connection with the broader community.

A key part of my new responsibilities includes working closely with our Community and Membership and Outreach Committees (who have been rockstars in this transition. Am I lucky or what?) We will be exploring new ways to engage people of all ages in giving back, finding their place at PCM, making connections, and living out Sunday's benediction: Do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with God.

I look forward to creating opportunities for us to serve together, grow in faith, and make a meaningful impact. So, to that end - I would love to hear from you! If you have ideas, passions, or simply want to get involved, please don't hesitate to reach out. Whether it's volunteering, creating a new event (parking lot disco, anyone?), partnering with local organizations, or brainstorming new initiatives, there is a place for everyone here. You can contact me at atufts@pcmorristown.org, stop by the church office, or we can grab a coffee (or queso) together —I'd love to chat and dream big!

I am excited to see what God has in store for us and grateful to be on this journey with you.

Here we go!
Amanda

CONNECTING WITH OUR COMMUNITY

Marnie Kaller, Outreach Committee

HOMELESS CONNECT MORRISTOWN

On January 31, 116 people streamed in and out of St. Peter's Episcopal Church to receive useful information from 40 agencies and enjoy food and the opportunity to shop for needed clothing – all for free. In addition, 35 haircuts were given by two employees of Razorz Edge Barber Shop. The atmosphere was warm, hospitable, helpful and friendly.

This was the second year that St. Peter's hosted the event which is an outreach to the Morris County unhoused population on the statewide "countday". It is sponsored by the Mental Health Association of Essex and Morris Inc. There were 40 volunteers who assisted in addition to those who represented the various agencies. Among the volunteers were PCM members, Donna Ehle, Kathy Banfe, Leanne Rea, Tom Tignor and Marnie Kaller. Recipients and volunteers enjoyed the opportunity to meet and interact with those who live in and around Morristown.

WE LOVE OUR COHOME NEIGHBORS!

Cohome is a Morristown not-for-profit organization dedicated to creating opportunities for adults with disabilities to access the least restrictive environment that can meet their individual needs. The residents at Cohome recently made the poster below, thanking PCM for our financial and community support. They regularly help us prepare Breakfast Bags for nourish.NJ and have made Christmas cards for our friends at Spring Hills.

PCM has enjoyed sharing meals with Cohome and participating in their Social Club. Most recently, Cohome held a Winter White fundraiser at End of Elm. Residents, staff, family, and guests enjoyed an evening of drinks, food and warm friendships. If you would like to become a part of the Cohome family, contact Marnie Kaller at marniekaller@gmail.com.

REACH OUT AROUND THE GLOBE

Janet Foster, Outreach Committee

The Outreach Committee's partners are currently heavily weighted toward local organizations that help address food insecurity, affordable housing, emergency shelter, and children's development. But Outreach also extends beyond our county, state, and nation.

Since the 19th century, the Presbyterian Church in the United States has been interested in "missionary work" overseas, and the Presbyterian Church in Morristown was no exception. It particularly fell to women's organizations within the church to raise money for support of missionaries, often in Africa or East Asia. Since the mid-20th century, the work of converting people to Christianity has been transformed into physical development work shared by many secular and religious-based organizations. Establishment of medical facilities, creation of water and sanitation systems, and education and training for children and adults has become the modern "overseas mission" in poor and underdeveloped places.

FOUNDATION FOR PEACE

The Presbyterian Church in Morristown currently has one direct partner in international work, Foundation for Peace. Founded by a pediatrician, Dr. Kenneth Culver, FFP currently works mostly in Kenya, Haiti, and the Dominican Republic. The organization is remarkable in that its leadership are all volunteers, and it relies on American volunteers to help build housing and water systems and provide routine medical care. About 98% of the funds FFP receives go directly to projects in partner countries, to the benefit of people there. Foundation for Peace also partners with other local organizations on the ground in the countries they serve to distribute food and offer educational opportunities. For more information, visit foundationforpeace.org.

PRESBYTERIAN DISASTER ASSISTANCE

Having trusted connections "on the ground" is indeed one of the key elements of successful mission work outside the United States. The PCM Outreach Committee has encouraged our congregation to donate funds for sustained responses to natural disasters, and typically this is directed to Presbyterian Disaster Assistance. This is a subset of the larger Presbyterian Church's mission and outreach programs and works through local partners in areas of need. For more information, visit pcusa.org/pda.

Beyond natural disasters, which seem to be more frequent and more malignant each year, the Presbyterian Church USA, offers long-term project-based work with international partners to bring hope and healing to the most vulnerable. PCUSA's work in developing people and physical resources is important in meeting Jesus' directive to "go out into the world" with the Gospel and the service that honor our Christian beliefs. (See Mark 16:15)

For more on the work of PCUSA overseas, visit pcusa.org/oghs. Contributions directed toward this work are collected through Lent and Easter in the One Great Hour of Sharing fund drive. See more details on the following page!

THE POWER OF HELLO

From the Safety Ministry Team

The Safety Ministry Team is always considering how to best assure our friendly and welcoming church community remains safe and secure.

We would like to introduce you to 'The Power of Hello', an approach to security that is based on utilizing friendly conversation to identify and address potential problems. Members of our team were introduced to it at a security seminar sponsored by the Presbytery. We felt it could easily be applied here at PCM and included it in the orientation of our Welcome Team last September.

There are four steps to 'The Power of Hello':

1. The first is to Observe Behavior -to be aware of individuals or situations that appear out of the ordinary. For example, this could be someone behaving suspiciously, someone who might be in a location where they shouldn't be, or someone wearing attire or carrying something that might conceal a weapon. Or perhaps someone who simply appears lost and needs direction.
2. The second and key step of this process is to Initiate a Hello - to ask if they need assistance (Hello. Can I help you?). If someone is not responding try to engage them further by asking, for example, How are you today? It's good to see you. Is this your first time here? or Are you looking for someone in particular? If you feel something is not right or are concerned in any way, let someone in charge know. This can be the Welcome Team Leader during worship (who is in the Narthex throughout the service) or one of the staff at the Parish House.
3. The third step is to Navigate the Risk - the person advised of a concern should observe and assess the situation to determine if action needs to be taken. Does the individual appear to need assistance? Should a Pastor or Stephen Minister be asked to speak with them? Is there something concerning about the individual that poses a threat to others? Is there a potential for danger? Determine if there is a need for further action or whether continued observation is sufficient.
4. The fourth step is to Obtain Help if it is determined there is a need for further action. If the person is behaving in a manner that is threatening to themselves or to others, the police (911) should be called immediately. In worship, if someone acts up or appears upset but is not threatening, attempts will be made to bring that person back to the Narthex where a Pastor or Stephen Minister can speak with them.

'The Power of Hello' is an approach that you can apply in a variety of situations. If you would like additional information or have any questions, please feel free to speak with a member of our team. Current members are Christy Allison, Craig Barth, Elizabeth Bruen, Bob Davies, Kevin Hubbard, Dick Kaller, Paul Koski, Stan Mack, Phil Scaduto, and Jenny Tooley.

Thank you and please stay safe!
